

Aldeen Foundation Scholarship

For Arabic Language Teachers 2010

Aldeen Foundation, a non-profit organization in Pasadena, California, is pleased to announce offering Three (3) separate One Thousand Dollars ($1,000.00) scholarships to enhance the Arabic Teaching.

The scholarships are available to enable teachers to attend and improve their competency and skills in language teaching and to expand their knowledge of language methodologies and techniques through participating in annual conferences. Each scholarship recipient is only eligible for one scholarship per year to attend one of the following national conferences:

NECTFL – March 25 – 27, 2010

The 2010 Northeast Conference & NYSAFLT Spring Colloquium
A Joint Professional Event
New York Marriott Marquis

ISNA Educators Conference – April 2 – 4, 2010

Westin O'Hare Hotel
6100 N. River Road, Rosemont, IL 60018

ACTFL – November 19 – 21, 2010:

Pre-Convention Workshops: November 18, 2010
Annual Convention and World Languages Expo: November 19-21, 2010
Hynes Convention Center and Sheraton Boston Hotel
Boston, MA

Scholarships for other conferences may be considered, based on the relevance of teaching Arabic as a foreign language.

This scholarship is limited to the United States residence only.

The scholarship provides financial support to offset the travel, registration expenses, and membership fees. The scholarship will be paid as reimbursement for expense upon submitting all original receipts, not to exceed $1,000.00, to Aldeen Foundation no later than 15 days from the end of the conference attended.

Each scholarship recipient will be responsible for their own travel arrangements and registration.

The participant must submit a half page summary of one of the sessions attended no later than 15 days from the end of the conference. This material will be added to Aldeen Foundation website under the name of the attendee.
